While Uncle Sam had Huerta under arrest, why didn't they make him salute the flag?

Two Walkers are contesting for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. The man who is elected in November will have to be a Runner.

The United States has warned both China and Japan that the United States will not recognize any agreement between them which impairs American rights in China or endangers the so-called open door policy.

They are talking of having Evelyn Nesbit Thaw testify against Harry. This is an unfair advantage. Unless Evelyn has lost much of her beauty, the appearance on the witness stand of the picture show Evelyn is liable to convince the jury that Thaw was crazy to take on over her.

Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American commission for relief in Belgium, has concluded an agreement with Gen. Von Bessing, military governor of Belgium, providing that the wheat and rye crops in the zone occupied by the Germans shall be reserved for the civilian population.

Two thousand people crowded in the opera house at Bowling Green to hear A. O. Stanley. Half as many were unable to gain admittance. He sprang a sensation by reading copies of letters written by H. V. McChesney to various corporations tendering his services before the state board of franchise assessment.

For the purpose of securing more co-operation from physicians and nurses in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has inaugurated a movement to bring the importance of this subject to the attention of these two groups. Among the first things which the Association is trying to do is to induce the medical colleges and schools of nursing to give more instruction, particularly of a clinical nature, on tuberculosis.

Nashville's municipal scandal is still the sensation of the hour. For "the immediate recall of the five city commissioners" of Nashville petitions were started into circulation Monday night at a meeting of the recall committee, composed of lawyers and business men, in the law offices of Laurent Brown in the Vanderbilt Law building. Each man present signed for a petition and the campaign for the signatures of 1,800 freeholders has begun. The petitions that are designed to eventually recall Mayor Howe and the entire board of city commissioners are addressed to the board of election commissioners of Davidson county.

His Usual Behavior.

A little boy with big, innocent blue eyes and sunny smile had been having an unusually good romp all morning, but when dinner was announced he so quietly and sedately followed out after his uncle, who was visiting them, that the uncle, noticing, said to him: "Ray, I believe you are a pretty good boy." Ray, looking up solemnly, replied: "I'm just like this all the time."

The weight of the dome of St Paul's is 8,500 tons, according to Mervin Macartney, the restoration architect.

TROUBLES THAT ARE REAL

When They Come, People Stop Complaining Over the Trifles They Thought Were So Great.

We are full of afflictions and complaints. Our salary is too low, our rent too high. Somebody of less merit gets a better job. Our investment has gone wrong. Our children are disobedient and extravagant. The street cars are slow and crowded. The wheat crop has failed. Cholera gets the hogs.

Every now and then, however, we get the real measure of these tribulations. This neighbor is not worrying much about salary or rent, because the doctors have told him he must soon die. That neighbor finds no fault in his child, because it lies dead. The poor ventilation of our house seems quite tolerable in contrast with that other house, where snow beats through the cracks and there is neither fuel or food.

Before such comparisons we are dumb and contented for a day or a week. So in our national life; how manifold and poignant are the causes of complaint—until we look across at those places in Europe where death, wounds and beggary are the common lot!

Then—well, we shall complain as often and as bitterly as ever; but we shall whistle "Hail, Columbia" under our breath while doing it.—Saturday Evening Post.

GOOD EATING

Pete—Does yo' think dat dere is luck in a rabbit's foot?

SAVED BY A SHELL.

The captain, commander, torpedo-lieutenant and another officer of the Blucher only escaped going down with their ship by a most extraordinary coincidence.

They were in the armored conning tower when the vessel began to heel over from the effects of the British fire. They were preparing to leave it, as she was manifestly sinking, when a shell struck it with such force that the door jammed and could not be opened.

They resigned themselves to death, and, making a virtue of necessity, were preparing to go down with the ship, when a second shell struck the conning tower and blew the top clean off. Thus a way was opened for them to escape, thanks to their enemy, of which they availed themselves.

In the long list of semimiraculous occurrences it would surely be hard to find one to beat this.

OUTCLASSED.

She Stayed in Bed.

Ingram, Tex.—"Ever since I became a woman," writes Mrs. E. M. Evans, of this place "I suffered from womanly troubles. Last fall I got so bad, I had to stay in bed for nearly a week every month. Since I have taken Cardui, I feel better than I have for years." You can rely on Cardui. It acts on the womanly organs and helps the system to regain its normal state of health, in a natural way. Prepared especially for women, it prevents womanly pains, by acting on the cause, and builds up womanly strength in a natural way. Purely vegetable. Mild, but certain in action. Try it.—Advertisement.

Early Coal Famine.

There was a coal famine in England in 1666. England was at the time at war with Holland, and, owing to the presence of the Dutch fleet in English waters, the Newcastle colliers found it impossible to get through to London. A period of great privation ensued. Writing in his diary in June, 1667, Pepys observes that "the great misery the city and kingdom is likely to suffer for want of coal is very visible, and, it is feared, will breed a mutiny." Later in the month comes the following entry: "Such is the want already of coals, and the despair of having any supply, that they are come this day to £5 10s a chaldron."—London Chronicle.

World production of copper dropped 10 per cent. last year.

The Logic of It.

The Yale freshman year was proving very expensive to father, so father decided to have a "heart-to-heart" talk with Johnny, home for the week end. "Now, son," said he gravely, but affectionately, "your mother and I are spending just as little as we possibly can. I get up in the morning at half-past six and I work until after five. But, son, the money just won't go round at the rate that your expenses are running. Now, I ask you, as one man to another, what do you think we had better do?" For a moment Johnny's head was buried in thought—and then he replied: "Well, father, I don't see any way out but for you to work nights."

"CATTALO" GIVES GOOD MEAT

Result of Series of Experiments in Crossing Buffalo and Domestic Cow.

"If scientific breeding could have been employed by our forefathers the country would not be up against the problem of how to increase the meat supply," said Frank A. Conrad of Montana at the Raleigh, according to the Washington Post. "Instead of pure beef, however, the people likely would be eating the meat of the cattalo, a cross between the buffalo and the domestic cow. The first experiments of crossing the buffalo and domestic cow were made more than a decade ago by 'Buffalo' Jones. He demonstrated that the cattalo was superior as a meat producing animal to the American steer. Other experiments were carried on by Charles Goodnight in Texas, and Messom Boyd in Ontario, Canada. All of the experiments have shown that the cross produces a much more valuable animal for meat purposes than straight breeding.

"The great advantage of the cattalo lies in the hump, which is one of the characteristics transmitted by the buffalo in the cross breeding. This hump is not a mass of fat, as is popularly supposed, but is formed by neural spines in length fully double those of domestic cattle, and also by huge muscles which lie alongside and fill up the angle between the neural spines and the ribs. In a rib roast of beef these muscles constitute the upper cut. I have partaken of a hybrid roast with an upper cut nine inches deep."
